

Colocation and Connectivity

Aquablue offers tier-one colocation services, ensuring your data is kept secure with our high-performing and high-connectivity options. With customizable data centers supporting an extensive range of power densities with multiple network and cloud connectivity options, our colocation services provide the resources and networking services to seamlessly scale and optimize your business.

Aquablue delivers a seamless, fully-managed experience to our customers through our dedicated, white-glove customer service team. From ordering and design assistance connectivity to installation in racks, the Aquablue team can manage the entire process.

Aquablue Delivers a Seamless Solution

- Aquablue Remote Hands will coordinate deliveries and be on site to accept and assist in installing and organizing racks
- Full access for clients to our 24/7/365 NOC
- Entry to Data Centers across the US
- Fully customizable from a simple single cabinet to private cages to meet specific technical, operational, and security needs

Why Use a Colo Data Center?

- Reduced cost — the data center users share the cost of power, cooling, communication, and data center floor space with other tenants
- You can still manage your own equipment as if it was your in-house data center with the help of Aquablue
- Being in a data center gives our clients access to a wider range of carriers at a lower cost compared to a traditional office space
- Data centers are equipped to protect your equipment from power outages with numerous backups, giving you peace of mind
- Around-the-clock, on-site, operational support service for remote management, installation, and troubleshooting of your data center equipment
- Physical security includes multiple checkpoints, manned security stands, mantraps, fire detection, and more
